Grab a bottle of “Tigers Blood” and then go for the power-punch that will work for the duration of the night! To start off this post is Part 1 of a series of posts where I review this month’s “Exclusive Online Coupons” from Tiger’s Blood. I review here each of the four coupons offered as part of the “Tigers Blood” monthly promo and highlight some of the benefits and/or where the savings goes. From personal experience, I can say that the coupon is convenient and works as advertised. Tigers Blood is a product used to strengthen the immune system (1) and states that one ounce can be used to protect over 200,000 people in the long-term (2). The product offers a variety of health benefits including the claim of: The Big Boy! For the past couple of years I have been jotting down some musings regarding the “big boy” in my life. At 35 and single, I think it is safe to say that I am finally at the “big boy” point in life. In the past 3-4 years I have thought a lot about my approach to parenting. As a young father I was very much of a “blame-the-parents” parent, and felt that I was somehow inadequate and incapable of doing it right as a parent. It wasn’t until I had a much older child that I began to appreciate the unique ability of being a parent. It was not that I thought older children would be better parents than me, or better at doing parenting perfectly, but I began to understand that they simply understood more and could bring many more tools to bear in the arena of parenting. When my first son was born, I really wasn't sure what to expect. I had a pretty good idea of the b7e8fdf5c8
